

Children's Creative Learning Center Early Education Program

Vision

The CCLC at FIU will act as a facilitator of lifelong learners by providing children, parents/legal guardian, families and students with a holistic foundation empowering them to impact the global society.

Mission

The CCLC at FIU will offer a welcoming, secure, diverse and multi-cultural environment. Each child enrolled in the Center will be offered an opportunity for optimal growth and development in the Center's socio-emotional based early education program which includes communication, expression of feelings, language development, decision making and critical thinking experiences enhancing their social, emotional, cognitive, physical, and aesthetic development. Each family will have the opportunity to become active participants in their child's education, enhance their parenting skills and partner with the teacher's through family meetings, parent workshops, classroom observation and participation. The Center will serve as a demonstration and research site for departments of the University and programs in the community.

Program Highlights

The Accredited Early Learning School Program is designed to promote critical thinking, decision making, and problem-solving skills through an assortment of developmentally appropriate activities, which enhance literacy, writing, and math processes.
